JE SUIS AUSTRALIENNE

by Rosemary Lancaster

Je Suis Australienne tells the stories of extraordinary Australian women who travelled to France at different times through history, formulating their impressions—in fiction, diaries, letters, autobiographies—between 1880 and 1945.

Following the lives of a schoolgirl, an artist, novelists, nurses and a secret agent, the book's sequential unfolding reveals Australian responses to key moments in French history: notably the Belle Epoque, World War I, the "roaring twenties", the politically unstable 1930s and World War II.
